PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS: David Hansen, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York

The 65th Annual Meeting of the Philosophy of Education Society (North America) convenes in the compelling international city of Montreal, Canada, on 20-23 March 2009.

Consistent with the long-standing traditions of the Society, the conference will feature the latest research by colleagues in philosophy of education and related fields. There will be invited speakers including the annual George Kneller Lecturer; previous Lecturers have included Richard Bernstein, Martha Nussbaum, and Richard Shusterman.

We plan to make the 65th Annual Meeting as international as possible as befits its cosmopolitan setting. Among the themes of the meeting will be contemporary philosophical responses to problems and possibilities generated by globalization and by an increasingly crowded, sometimes confused, sometimes inspiring world. We encourage colleagues from around the world – including both established scholars and graduate students -- to plan ahead to submit a proposal, and to make arrangements to come and participate in what will be a memorable and timely scholarly gathering.
